Swarthmore, Pa.

Dear Mr. Lerando:-

I am herewith returning you the newspaper clippings you sent us awhile ago concerning the Pan-Slavic decorations of independence. I should have returned these before but they were being held by one of the members of the Publication of Medals Committee. This matter is now in the hands of this Committee. It is too early to report today just what will be done but I personally am in hopes of very favorable action on their part.

I trust that we will be able to see you shortly, and remain,

Yours very truly,

Curator.

Dear Professor Lerando:

I have just seen illustrations of a Czecho-Slovakia Decoration not included in the lot which you were instrumental in having presented to our Museum. This Order is evidently known as the Order of the White Lion and is given to foreigners. I should judge there are several classes of it. Do you think it would be possible for us to obtain these Decorations?

Very truly yours,

Curator
